ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS FOR LAYOUT

Requirements for poster formatting: size 120/80 cm, orientation “Portrait”. Poster language: Bulgarian/English.

Additional requirements for the manuscripts that will be published in the electronic scientific journal Bulgarian One Health Journal, issued by the Risk Assessment Centre on Food Chain and forthcoming referencing at National Centre for Information and Documentation (NACID).

The manuscripts have to be written in English, in Word format and structured as follows:

1. Original papers:

Title – brief and clear, corresponding to the main subject of the manuscript, in English, capital letters, without abbreviations, Times New Roman, font size 12, centered, bold;

Author (s) – name, family name and affiliation, written in upper and lower case letters, Times New Roman, font size 12, centered, bold, in the following order – name, institution, e-mail of the leading author (corresponding author), and then the same data for the co – authors. If the authors have a different place of work, they should be marked with asterisks above the author's name to match the address and contact details;

Summary – brief description (max. 250 words) of the essential information and paper contribution to the respective scientific topic, in English, Times New Roman, font size 12;

Key words - Up to 5 key words in English to be included below the text, Times New Roman, font size 12, Italic.

Introduction

Provide a brief overview of the scope and relevance of the research. The section should include a short statement of why the research was conducted. Include a little review of the key literature. The introduction should conclude with a short statement of the overall aim of the experiments and a comment about whether that aim was achieved.

Materials and methods

The section should present the research design, research type, research duration, inclusion/exclusion criteria, choice of subjects, etc., detailed description of the methodology, including sample collection, processing, laboratory analysis, statistical tests used for data analysis etc.

Results

Present and illustrate your data objectively and concisely, if appropriate, with figures/ tables. In the main text, describe each of your results by a specific observation. The results should provide details of all of the experiments that are required to support the conclusions of the paper.

Discussion

The section should provide an interpretation of your results and make comparisons with other studies. If your results differ from your expectations, include the possible explanation of that. If your results agree, then describe the theory that the evidence supported.

Conclusions

The main conclusions of the experimental work should be presented. In this section, state any conclusions that can be drawn from your data. The conclusion may be a subsection of the Results and Discussion section, or it may be a separate section.

Acknowledgements

The section is where you may wish to thank people indirectly involved in the research. However, it is important that anyone listed here knows in advance of your acknowledgement of their contributions. Do not include dedications.

References

All sources cited in text must appear in the reference list and all items in the reference list must be cited in text.

All references should be listed numerically in the order they've been cited within the paper. At the beginning of each reference, the bracketed number should be included.

The quoted literature should be arranged in alphabetical order (Cyrillic, Latin) and described according to the standard – author, title, literary source, year, volume, number, page.

At least 30% of the references of the submitted manuscripts should include references published in the last five years. In all citations in the text the author's family name and the year of the publication should be given.

If the authors are two, both names are referred to. If they are 3 or more: the first author's name should be used, followed by "et al." If several authors are cited, their names are chronologically arranged and if their publications are in one and the same year - alphabetically.

Citations to the journal's articles should be cited in the text as: (Kim, 2019), (Belajio and Scali, 2021), (Martin et al. 2023). Name of all authors be written, and name of the Journal be written in full. Authors are encouraged to write DOI of each cited article. The list of references at the end of manuscript must be arranged alphabetically and each reference in the list should appear in the following form:

Example:

Reference to a journal publication:

Bradbury J and Garuti Y, 1978. Dual infection with Mycoplasma synoviae and a tenosynovitis-inducing reovirus in chickens. Avian Pathology 7: 407-419. DOI: 10.1080/03079457808418294

Desborough J, 2000. The stress response to trauma and surgery. British Journal of Anaesthesia 85: 109-117.

Koev K, Zhelev G, Marutsov P, Gospodinova K and Petrov V, 2018. Isolation and primary identification of shiga toxin producing Escherichia coli O157 in dairy cattle. Bulgarian Journal of Veterinary Medicine 4: 445-450. DOI: 10.15547/bjvm.1077

Tables

To be provided in a separate file. Tables should be numbered in Arabic numerals according to their sequence in the text. Each table should have a unique title comprehensible enough without reading the text.

Figures, graphs and drawings

To be provided in a separate file. The scale of the figure should be indicated at the right bottom by a line scale and the size is given in parentheses at the end of the figure caption, e.g. (bar = 10 mm). Each figure, graph or drawing should have a caption/title. The caption should be concise and typed separately, not on the figure/ graph area. All figures are to be sequentially numbered with Arabic numerals. Figures should always be cited in text in consecutive numerical order.

Digital photographs

The resolution of digital photographs should be at least 300x300 dpi, in .jpeg or .tiff format. Each photograph should have a concise title. The photographs should always be cited in text in consecutive numerical order.

Address for correspondence

Full name; Institution; Telephone number, Fax number (if applicable); Email address

Scientific materials that do not meet the above requirements will not be published.
